

post-ism

Autumn Art in Hong Kong

September 9, 2013 ,By Diana d'Arenberg

Jenny Holzer, 'Ribs', 2010. Photo: Richard-Max Tremblay
Courtesy: Sprüth Magers Berlin/London

Renowned American conceptual artist, Jenny Holzer, presents her solo show of LED works at Pearl Lam Galleries. The centerpiece of the exhibition, 'Light Stream' (2013), is Holzer's largest gallery installation to date comprising of over 25 LED elements with a selection of phrases from Holzer's historic series, 'Truisms' (1977-79), 'Living' (1980-82) and 'Survival' (1983-85). Shown for the first time in Chinese as well as English, it will bring to fruition the artist's long-time desire to produce a swarming mass of texts in one work. Shown alongside the LED works Holzer will present a new series of white marble benches, carved with short poignant statements in Chinese such as 'MONEY CREATES TASTE' and 'DON'T PLACE TOO MUCH TRUST IN EXPERTS'. Indeed.

Peal Lam Galleries

601-605 Pedder Building, 12 Pedder Street, Central

T: +852 2522 1428

Exhibition dates: 19 September – 2 November 2013.